President Says U.S. Persistence Will Tip Scales

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—President Johnson, in a two-state barnstorming tour, said today American "staying power" will tip the scales in the Viet Nam war. "We shall persist," he said, despite home front differences that he pictured as giving aid and comfort to Hanoi. Venturing into territory where public opinion polls indicate widespread disenchantment with administration handling of the Viet Nam war, Johnson retreated not an inch. In an address prepared for a dockside appearance beside the Missouri River here, Johnson coupled his pledge of persistence with an optimistic statement about the way things are going in Viet Nam.

T.F. Boy, 5, Critical After Auto Hits Him

A 5-year-old Twin Falls boy was listed in "very critical" condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital at noon after being struck by an automobile at about 9 a.m. Thursday.

A hospital source said the boy, Jaycee Standley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Standley, 1201 Eighth Ave. E., had a massive head injury, chest injuries and abdominal injuries of unknown extent. Police said the accident occurred as the boy ran from behind a delivery van, which was parked in front of the Eighth Avenue Market on Blue Lakes Boulevard. Police said the vehicle that struck him was driven by Vicki Jo Clough, 16, 1015 Adair Ave. E.

They said she had less than 15 feet to try and stop when the boy ran directly in the path of her southbound auto, and she couldn't have hit the brakes even if she had only been going 12 miles per hour. Police said there was no indication of speed. Investigation is continuing.

Hearing Held On Vandalism At School

After a hearing in Probate Court Wednesday, Judge Joe Ann Shauh disclosed the name of Kevin O. Gillies as the 13-year-old boy charged in connection with the butyric acid incident at the high school during May.

Gillies, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan P. Gillies, 144 Taylor St., admitted his part in the vandalism, but would not disclose the names of other persons involved. The three persons to testify after being subpoenaed were Rodney Rushton, Stephen Klomp and David Poe.

Rushton, under oath, refused to testify, invoking the fifth amendment. Both Klomp and Poe denied any connection with the incident. At about 5 p.m. the hearing was concluded until July 19. Judge Shauh said this is to give high school Principal George Staudacher a chance to attend the proceedings. He will be out of town until that date.

Prosecuting Attorney James J. May said additional persons will be subpoenaed for the July 19 hearing. A source at the high school said Gillies, Klomp and Poe all were honor students, and that Klomp is the president of the National Honor Society. He said Rushton was not an honor student, but was active in school music programs.

All four of the boys were graduated from high school this year. Rushton is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Rushton, 320 Second Ave. N.; Klomp is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald J. Klomp, 1841 Granada Circle, and Poe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Poe, Route 5.

French Chief Sees Soviet Mock Battle

MOSCOW (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle watched maneuvers of Soviet armored and military forces today in a mock battle that included a simulated atomic-bomb explosion.

The French president and the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, stood on an observation platform, watched the maneuvers from a vast plain at an army training center near Moscow.

De Gaulle was also shown some Soviet missiles at another part of the camp, but newsmen were not permitted to go with him. The visit to the army camp was the first stop on the last full day of de Gaulle's 11-day visit to the Soviet Union. His schedule also included an appearance on Soviet television and the signing of a joint declaration with Soviet leaders.

NEWEST AND OLDEST members of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce received punch from Earl Faulkner, incoming president of the chamber, during the chamber's open house Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. C. H. (May) Mitchell, center, has been a continuous member of the chamber since 1912. And Walter Harding, right, operator of Monterey Motor Inn, became a member Wednesday afternoon. The open house was held in the chamber's new office building. Faulkner and other new officers assume duties Friday. (Times-News photo)

Draft Youngest Men First, Study Urges

WASHINGTON (AP)—A long-awaited Defense Department study concluded today that the draft should be redesigned to induct the youngest eligible men first and not men nearest 25—"those who are the most settled in their careers." The change would shift the emphasis to the 19-20 age bracket. "Combat commanders prefer the younger age group," the study said, "and about eight of 10 volunteers are in the age group under 20." The study, presented to the House Armed Services Committee by Asst. Secretary of Defense Thomas D. Morris, made these other principal points:

—The United States cannot look forward to discontinuing the draft in the next decade unless changing world conditions reduce needs substantially below the force levels required since Korea.

—A "selective" force cannot be justified because it would cost anywhere between $4 billion and $17 billion to increase military pay enough to attract the volunteers needed even for a pre-Viet Nam force of 2.7 million. More than 3 million are in service now.

—The present deferment system is "basically sound." Morris, in charge of manpower for the Defense Department, testified as the committee wound up its hearings into the operations of the Selective Service System.

The Pentagon study was ordered by President Johnson two years ago but had not been made public, despite some grumbling from Congress.

Morris told the committee the report indicates that volunteer service should continue to be emphasized and civilians should replace military men wherever possible. In addition, he said, the nation should "perfect techniques of remedial training and physical rehabilitation so as to make military service available to every man who wishes it and is able to serve."

Morris' prepared comments made no mention of a draft lottery or universal military service, proposals for which have drawn fire from a number of quarters.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee on Wednesday cleared the administration's $1.75-billion anti-poverty bill for House action.

The west end of town to protect property in case the fire could not be contained in time. As it was, BLM crews brought the fire under control before they could do any real damage.

At the time the fires were discovered, all BLM crews were on other assignments. One crew was in the Idaho Falls District at Aberdeen; one in the Burley District at Shoshone Blain, and one in the Boise District near Salmon Falls Creek reservoir. The crews had been gone since Tuesday, helping to bring fires in those areas under control. Enough of the crew members had returned so that the fires were quickly brought under control.

C. of C. Has Open House At New Office

Open house at the new Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce office building Wednesday evening was termed successful, with several hundred persons visiting the building.

Among the hundreds who visited were State Sen. Cecil Andrus, Democratic candidate for governor from Orofino; Mrs. C. H. (May) Mitchell, and Walter Harding, Monterey Motor Inn. Mrs. Mitchell is a charter member of the chamber, having been a continuous member since 1912, and Harding is the chamber's newest member. He joined Wednesday.

The only other charter member of the chamber is C. H. (Cap) Kregel, who was in Chicago Wednesday.

Hosts and hostesses for the open house were new and old directors and their wives. The directors' wives made the cookies for the event.

New officers and directors of the chamber who will assume their new duties Friday are Earl Faulkner, president; Howie Allen, first vice president, and Robert Van Engelen, second vice president.

New directors, besides Allen and Van Engelen, are Harold Hove, Lee Vogel, Robert Alexander and Vernon Routh.

Outgoing officers are Douglas Kramer, president; Faulkner, first vice president, and Robert Day and John Christoferson. Secretary-manager is Ray Rostrom.

Flowers for the open house were sent by the Pocatello, Burley and Kimberly Chambers of Commerce and several Twin Falls business firms. Wires of congratulations were received from Greater Boise Chamber of Commerce and Moscow Chamber of Commerce.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Baghdad Radio tonight broadcast an announcement quoting Iraqi President Abdel Rahman Arif as saying a coup attempt "by a group of failed adventurers" had failed to overthrow his regime.

The radio said the coup "had restored order in all corners of the country."

State AFL-CIO Convention Is Concluded at Burley

BURLEY — McCall was selected as the site of the 1967 Idaho AFL-CIO convention Wednesday afternoon during the final session of business at the group's eighth annual meet held at Burley.

Delegates voted on several remaining resolutions before the convention which called for: A proposed COPE program for Idaho. Establishment of a Sawtooth National Recreation Area.

American Bombers Hit Fuel Depots Near Red Capital

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—American bombers attacked Communist fuel depots in the vicinity of Hanoi for the second straight day today, the U.S. command announced. Both Navy and Air Force planes participated in the raids, which hit fuel dumps around the capital of Communist North Viet Nam.

Worldwide Dispute Flashes on Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP)—An uproar over the American bombing of oil supply depots on the outskirts of Hanoi and Haiphong echoed today from Capitol Hill to the capitals of Europe. At home, Johnson administration spokesmen emphasized that the United States was "not attempting to escalate the war" with Wednesday's air strikes. Abroad, the first reaction was mostly critical to the bombings which Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said inflicted heavy damage on the facilities which represented over 60 per cent of North Viet Nam's remaining oil storage capacity. He said one American plane was downed.

McNamara told a news conference that every effort was made to prevent harm to civilians and to avoid destruction of nonmilitary facilities. But a North Vietnamese army communiqué charged the U.S. planes with "indiscriminate bombing and strafing residential and economic areas, causing human and material losses to our people."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey countered this claim with a declaration that "no civilian casualties resulted." He told a news conference in Dayton, Ohio, that the bombings were conducted under very careful control and amazing precision.

He said he doubted the bombings would escalate the war and said the decision was to "bomb military targets for military reasons and with military efficiency."

He said American allies, including Britain, were told of the decision in advance of the air strikes. The vice president said the reaction of British Prime Minister Harold Wilson was not unexpected. Wilson had expressed regret over the bombings and said Britain was unable to support the action.

Wilson's statement drew a sharp rebuttal Wednesday night from Duncan Sandys, a Conservative legislator.

Sandys, a Cabinet minister in the last Tory government and former son-in-law of the late Sir Winston Churchill, said Wilson's criticism was "a stab in the back which will long be resented in the United States."

Initial reaction from the Soviet Union was "calm," Sandys said. See DISPUTE, pg. 2, col. 5

Alturas Lake Road Paving Nearly Done

Oiling and surfacing of the Alturas Lake road is about completed, Max Reed, supervisor of the project, National Forest, reported Thursday.

Reed said the Mavorick Construction Co., Burley, will complete the project, reshaping and applying of bituminous mix and seal coating by the latter part of July.

The new two-lane roadway will be 24 feet wide and 5.36 miles long. It will end at the Inlet Campground on the west end of the lake. Estimated cost of the surfacing project is $104,270.

The roadway was reconstructed and shaped in 1964 by the Gordon Paving Co., Inc., Burley, at an estimated cost of $95,080. The firm constructed a 26-foot wide double base road to the lake. The project was completed in the fall of 1964.

Reed said the road was in need of improvement and when completed the roadway will be dust free.

Six Wounded In Incident In Dominican

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—At least six persons were reported wounded today when police fired into a rock-throwing crowd in front of the Reformist party headquarters.

The incident marred the festive mood in the capital awaiting the inauguration Friday of President-elect Joaquin Balaguer. It took place only a few hours before the scheduled arrival of U.S. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who will head the American delegation to the inaugural.

Eyewitnesses said students from a nearby school engaged Reformist party partisans in an argument in front of party headquarters. The scuffle turned into a near riot and when police arrived some in the crowd hurled rocks. The police then fired one burst that dispersed the rioters.

The Reformist party is headed by Balaguer. The headquarters were located a few blocks from the national palace.

Telephone Firm Notes New Rates

Certain long distance telephone and service rates will be reduced by the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Co., states Leo Vogel, district manager.

The rate reduction, effective Friday, includes a five per cent discount on customer-dialed (DDD) long distance calls over 31 miles within Idaho, when completed between 4:30 a.m. and 8 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Vogel said those who are unable to dial direct because equipment is not available in their exchanges will also receive the discount.

There also will be reductions on installations of colored sets and key telephones. For residence customers, the one-time charge for both color and Princess telephones is reduced from $7.50 to $4. If two or more such phones are installed on the same order, only the one-time $4 charge applies, regardless of the number of color and Princess phones ordered.

For business firms, the $7.50 charge for color or Princess telephones will be reduced to $4 for the first two sets and $2 for each additional color or Princess phone if connected on the same visit.

Business key telephone systems will come under a new package pricing arrangement that will simplify and in many cases reduce the amount charged business subscribers. Subscribers receive additional information about new reductions with their July bills, Vogel said.

Idaho telephone customers will save an estimated $99,000 annually on long distance calls, $400 on color and Princess installations—and $78,000 on business key telephone systems. "Increased operating efficiency and service growth enables us to pass these savings to our customers," Vogel concluded.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage done by the raiders.

An Air Force spokesman said no Communist MIG jets were sighted and no surface-to-air missiles were fired before the American planes turned away.

The raids continued the American strategy designed to deprive the North Vietnamese army of its vital fuel supplies and thus hamper its movement of men and supplies to the Viet Communist front.

Earlier U.S. military officials proclaimed the attacks Wednesday on the fuel depots at Hanoi and Haiphong a spectacular success, and an Air Force general termed them the "most significant military action since the war."

"This ought to prove that we can take out any military target we want to, although this is no sign that we do that," added Maj. Gen. Gilbert L. Meyers, deputy commander of the 7th U.S. Air Force.

Today, the U.S. command announced, Navy planes attacked a key radar site 38 miles north of Hanoi and a fuel dump 25 miles south of Hanoi.

Officer Is Resigning From Group

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—An officer and former chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee said today he is resigning from the organization which has taken on the slogan of "black power."

John R. Lewis, 28, who was ousted as national chairman of SNCC last May 14, said in an interview he disagrees with the terminology employed by the organization.

"There is a danger in SNCC of tumbling the ball," said Lewis. "But he declined to specify the 'black power' talk of the new leaders as his reason for resigning. His resignation was submitted June 11 and becomes effective July 22, he said.

SNCC's new slogan of "black power" emerged during the Mississippi civil rights march that ended last Sunday in Jackson, Miss. It aggravated the internal divisions of the civil rights movement and brought disavowals from some Negro leaders.

Racial Unrest Besets City In Georgia

CORDELE, Ga. (AP)—For the second time this year racial troubles have beset the citizens of this South Georgia town. Almost every citizen was affected by the strict curfew the city commission clamped on this town—of 8:30 p.m.—following violent clashes between Negroes and whites.

The curfew, from 8:30 p.m. to 6 a.m., was ordered after a pitched gun battle between whites and Negroes Tuesday night.

Earlier this year, many citizens became enraged when, during a civil rights rally at the courthouse, demonstrators pulled the U. S. and Georgia flags from the flagstaff. The U. S. flag was ripped in the incident.

Officials say they are puzzled at the turn of events. "I just don't understand it," Police Chief T. J. McMurray said. McMurray and other city officials said mobs, restaurants and other public accommodations were desegregated without incident some time ago. "Two years ago, we hired three Negro policemen," McMurray said. "They worked out fine. We also have three Negro police officers working at school crosswalks." He said he has 18 policemen in all. Richard H. Folger, assistant city manager, estimated that 70 per cent of those employed by the city are Negro.

LITTLE FAWN that strayed into Sallinas, Calif., from nearby hills was taken to the local animal shelter where it quickly made friends with two kittens. Curious feline in foreground showed no hesitation about a friendly greeting for the long-legged stranger. The deer had to cross several miles of open farm land to reach the valley town. A shelter employe plans to take the fawn home as a pet. (AP wire-photo)

Senator Case Hits Proposal For Two Dams

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N. J., said today that flooding part of the Grand Canyon is like selling "the birthright of our people for a mess of pottage."

He attacked a proposal for two dams on the Colorado River in the Grand Canyon area.

"Over and beyond all the technological, economic and legal reasons for opposing the dams," he said in a statement for the Senate, "is the undeniable fact that a unique wonder of nature would be destroyed for all time."

A House interior subcommittee approved Tuesday a bill to authorize a $1.7 billion development of the Colorado River Basin, including the construction of two giant power dams—Hualapai (formerly called Bridge Canyon) and Marble Canyon—on the Colorado.

"These dams," Case said, "would be constructed for the ultimate purpose of bringing water into arid central Arizona. The dams themselves will not produce a drop of water for that region, or for any other region."

"Rather, electricity to be generated by the impounded water will be sold at a profit to help pay for diverting water from somewhere else into the Phoenix-Tucson area. In other words, the dams are a financing gimmick aptly described by the Bureau of Reclamation as 'cash registers.'"

Thus, Case said, the Grand Canyon would be sacrificed to provide a "financing device."

Goldberg Is Ready to Remain at U.N. Post

Thursday, June 30, 1966
Twin Falls Times-News 3

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. State Dept. Rusk, 56, expressed hope that after 11 months in office he is doing a useful job. He hinted that he sometimes disagrees with Rusk, but denied saying he is ready to remain in the post "as long as the President wants me to stay."

In a half-hour interview, he brushed aside reports that he is unhappy in his job and that he told correspondents published in his feud with Secretary of State Rusk.

Goldberg, himself did not reply directly when asked if he regretted he had left the Supreme Court to come here, saying: "Once I make a decision, I make a decision. It's kind of futile to look back. You have to look forward in life."

"I'm a grown man, I've made a decision and I'm busy engaged in what I'm doing now," he said he still feels as he did last July 28, when he accepted the U.N. post and told White House reporters his Supreme Court service would always be the most enjoyable experience of his life. "I took this job not to enjoy myself," he went on. "I took this because I thought it was a duty assignment for our country. I still think it is. I haven't changed my mind. Anything insinuating to the contrary is not well founded."

As to the reports he was displeased with Rusk, Goldberg declared: "I have no feud with the secretary of state. I express myself. He expresses himself. I also have no desire or ambition to become secretary of state or hold any other office other than the one I now hold. I entered upon it to help the country. Whether I am succeeding in helping the country is not for me but for others to judge. I hope I am."

Another Step

It appears that Twin Falls is one more step closer to having an auditorium following completion of an agreement between the Civic Auditorium Association and the College of Southern Idaho. The auditorium group has agreed to turn its funds over to the junior college to be used in constructing a "fine arts center." The structure can be called by any name, but it will be the place for such plays and performances as are commonly presented in an auditorium.

It's also clear that the seating capacity won't be adequate for the community, although it might serve junior college needs. Preliminary estimates put the cost at around $640,000. If the rule of thumb of $600 per seat for an auditorium is followed, the "fine arts center" will have a seating capacity of something in the vicinity of 1,000. Although roughly 300 to 400 more seating capacity than presently available in an auditorium, it will still fall short of what some persons envision as the minimum needs of the community—around 2,500.

Perhaps it's unreasonable to criticize or expect more. At any rate, the "fine arts center" should be far better in other respects than any similar structure now available. And perhaps some day in the not distant future, factors will combine to create circumstances that will lead to a fine auditorium of adequate seating capacity to supplement the "fine arts center."

INTOLERABLE THREATS

No citizen of Twin Falls should tolerate conditions that would leave any resident of the city afraid to walk the streets. An 11-year-old boy reported recently he was threatened by a carload of persons as he was walking near his home. If circumstances were as presented by the boy it's a situation that rates highest priority by city officials and police. Everyone should feel free to use Twin Falls streets either at night or day—and most particularly in daylight—without fear of threats or intimidation.

In the case of the 11-year-old boy, the persons in the car were after money. Things have come to a pretty pass when adults stoop to trying to rob children. But it's a sign of the times. Too many persons find themselves in need of ready cash and lack either the inclination or ambition to try working for it. That's why vending machines, parking meters and other sources of petty cash are broken so frequently.

Everyone can hope the case of the 11-year-old boy was an isolated incident that will not be repeated. If there is a repetition, then there should be loud and immediate demands for quick action.

ALL SEWED UP?

Capt. George Willmore, a candidate for the Democratic nomination as second district congressman, won't be home from Viet Nam until after the primary. However, he didn't plan any campaigning. That's the word from Mrs. Willmore, who said her husband had planned to "go out and meet the people," introduce himself and discuss issues. She may be drawing a fine line between campaigning and not campaigning, but there's a good reason. While Capt. Willmore holds his commission, he cannot legally campaign for public office.

Mrs. Willmore, who has been doing all the talking for her husband to date, explains the captain "will give consideration" to resigning his commission and running as a full-fledged candidate if he wins the Democratic nomination. In other words, the captain would like to have his cake and eat it, too. Perhaps other persons would follow a similar course if they found themselves in the captain's shoes.

Capt. Willmore's opponent in the primary election, A. W. Brunt, can be expected to take advantage of the lack of campaigning. It remains to be seen if the captain's absence in Viet Nam will offset his normal advantages of being young, tall, handsome and serving his country. Voters may react adversely to the unusual situation and think he couldn't be counted on to represent the district properly. If many voters start thinking along those lines, the Democrats will nominate Mr. Brunt.

Looking ahead to November, Rep. George Hansen undoubtedly would prefer to be opposed in the general election by Mr. Brunt. The returned war hero would be a formidable opponent, if he should decide to campaign.

Anyway, Capt. Willmore's absence until after the primary election puts a new complexion on the primary. Perhaps he isn't such a cinch for the nomination after all.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON—Capitol Hill is up to here these days in well-dressed, big-spending and influential lobbyists for the automobile industry. Congress prepares to act on a much tougher auto safety bill than the industry had expected. On the civil rights bill is expected to generate a more bruising behind-the-scenes battle.

As cleared by the Senate Commerce Committee—subject to change on both the Senate floor and in the House—the safety bill is a "do-or-die" proposition. The Senate Commerce Committee has thrown the book at the industry by requiring the Secretary of Commerce to set safety performance standards and by authorizing the highest limitation on penalties ever set by Congress. As the bill stands, it makes the legislation President Johnson sent to the Hill look like a sop to the industry.

INDUSTRY FUMBLE BALL—Publicly, industry lobbyists claim they can win enough votes to soften the bill. Privately, they admit they have little chance of making any but innocuous changes. They candidly lay the blame for the situation on the industry itself for refusing in the past to initiate voluntary changes in design and for General Motors' involvement in the investigation by a detective agency of Ralph Nader, author of the best selling book on auto safety, "Unsafe at Any Speed." With the best of intentions, they say, the automakers managed to convey the impression they didn't care a hoot about safety.

At any rate, the only skirmish won so far by the industry was that to block criminal penalties. But this was insignificant compared with the committee's action in authorizing fines of up to $100,000 for a series of violations on a car of up to $100 per car. The industry had been willing to accept a fine limitation of $100,000, at the rate of $100 per car. Moreover, the violations need not be shown to be knowing and willful, but only the result of a failure to exercise due care.

NO COURT REVIEW—Early on, the automakers lost their fight to have a decisive voice in setting of standards and to provide for a judicial review of federal orders. So far, they have been clobbered.

Under the Senate Commerce bill, the Commerce Secretary will set standards for foreign as well as domestic cars. Should the bill become law in this session—a distinct possibility—interim standards would be effective for the 1968 models, and the first permanent standards would apply to the 1969 cars.

Among them, such senators as Ribicoff, D. Conn.; Hartke, D. Ind.; Mondale, D. Minn.; and Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., thought of about everything. Manufacturers must notify new car buyers of any safety defects, and the Secretary of Commerce may initiate action concerning defects not reported by the makers. The bill also makes manufacturers responsible for the repair of defects at the manufacturer's expense of new equipment with defects affecting safety, and prescribing in detail the information the secretary must provide in an annual report to Congress.

ALL HAZARDS COVERED—Standards will apply even to the hazards created by cars when they are standing still, such as a defective car door. And the bill provides that where federal standards exist, no state can set weaker standards, thus nullifying manufacturers' lobbying in states where they have considerable influence in the legislatures.

Meanwhile, Sen. Hartke and Warren Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, have indicated they may take to the Senate floor their fight for criminal sanctions against automakers who violate the standards. In such an atmosphere, the industry may be wasting both its money and time of its Hill lobbyists in fighting this one.

Views of Others

CASH REGISTERS OR WILDERNESS?—These dams are cash registers," says a U. S. Department of the Interior publication. "They will ring up sales of electric power."

The dams the publication is talking about are proposed for the Colorado River in Arizona. One is to be built at Bridge Canyon, the other at Marble Canyon. Both would flood huge wilderness areas and affect the flow of the river through both Grand Canyon National Park and Grand Canyon National Monument. According to the Izaak Walton League, "construction of Marble Canyon dam would pave the way for later approval of the Kanab project which would divert Colorado River flow through most of the park."

The dams are "cash registers" because they are designed primarily to make electricity which would be sold to pay for water supply projects to benefit Arizona and would be built in other places. While no one could object to supplying the people of Arizona with water or developing the means to pay for it, this doesn't sound like a very sensible way.

In the first place any project which adversely affects such great natural resources as Grand Canyon National Park and Grand Canyon Monument is aesthetically and economically stupid. Once we change wilderness we cannot restore it. This would mean that future generations would be cheated and from the economic viewpoint fewer tourists will visit there.

There are other methods of developing power which might be just as successful. Coal and oil could supply the need. Perhaps nuclear power might do it if none of these is practical, then the cost of supplying the water should be borne by the power companies.

MONEY IS CHEAP. The timeless values which the Grand Canyon area represents cannot be measured in dollars and cents.—The Boston Herald.

LURLEEN
In a state where appreciable numbers of Negroes registered and voted for the first time, the primary was inescapably a test of racial strength. The white folks of Alabama—the folks who kept saying that if black folks were allowed to vote they would vote in a solid racial bloc—set them an example by voting as a solid racial bloc themselves. Negro support proved ineffective in the statewide contest, but it was impressive in a number of local races, particularly in what used to be the most bigoted part of the state, the Black Belt, now the most moderate part. It is not likely that Negroes will ever again be ignored politically.

Outside of Alabama, the results of the gubernatorial primary will bring a good deal of disappointment. To those who feel this way, we can but commend Thomas Jefferson's sage observation: "I know of no safe depository of the ultimate powers of society but the people themselves; and if we think them not enlightened enough to exercise their control with wholesome discretion, the remedy is not to take it from them, but to inform their discretion by education."—Washington Post.

One June 13 the court overturned all four convictions and laid down this order for the future:

Before police question a prisoner they must tell him clearly he does not have to answer, that he is entitled to have a lawyer with him, and, if he can't afford one, that the state will supply him with a lawyer.

So Miranda won—on the rape case, it might have seemed logical to assume that now his lawyers could appeal his robbery conviction and expect this court automatically to

But when the court gave its June 13 decision, it knew this action would spark a deluge of appeals from all over the country from men who, already convicted of crimes, would argue their confessions had not been voluntary.

Interpreting The News

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — At 26 Ernesto Miranda is in a box — one of the strangest in America's history.

He won a landmark decision from the Supreme Court but, as a by-product of his victory, faces 20 years in jail. He will stay there unless the court can be persuaded to consider his case again.

But, if it does, this will be the first time the court ever encountered a problem like Miranda's. His is not a pretty story but here it is step by step.

In 1963 he was arrested in his Phoenix, Ariz., home, taken to a police lineup, and there identified as the man who had committed two crimes eight months apart, a rape and a robbery.

Police then questioned him in a private room for about two hours. In that time he made written confessions on both crimes. They were used against him at his trials on both charges. He was convicted of both.

For the rape he got 25-30 years, for the robbery 10-25. But there was a fine constitutional question involved. Had Miranda's right not to incriminate himself been violated by the way the police handled him?

The police admitted he had not been told he could have a lawyer before they questioned him at all. And had the police clearly told him he didn't have to answer any question?

The American Civil Liberties Union got interested at once in the help of a distinguished Arizona constitutional lawyer, John P. Frank, who, with his associates and for special legal reasons, made this decision.

"They would appeal Miranda's conviction in the rape case, instead of the robbery case. The Arizona Supreme Court turned him down on the self-incrimination protest. The case went then

Viet Nam War Reaches New Stage of Intensification

When 46 U.S. warplanes struck North Vietnamese oil complexes close to Hanoi and Haiphong, the war in Viet Nam reached a new stage of intensification that has been building for a period of five years.

"The price of the war has just gone up," a Pentagon official in Washington commented Wednesday. "I don't know what you call this besides an escalation."

It was a far cry from five years back. Then, Americans scarcely noticed when President John F. Kennedy sent 100 jungle fighters to serve as advisers to a South Vietnamese army fighting a Red insurgency. Since then, a remote jungle conflict in a land little known to Americans has become probably the most controversial foreign war in U.S. history.

Those who noted the slight "escalation" — the word was not current then — in President Kennedy's step probably were reassured when Lyndon B. Johnson, then vice president, commented during a visit to Viet Nam that "it will furnish the support, they will furnish the manpower."

Even three years ago, in May 1963, when Buddhist troubles were about to ignite a political explosion in Saigon, little public attention was paid to the situation there.

But as early as 1962, Washington had admitted to having 685 military "advisers" in Viet Nam, while reports circulated that the total was closer to 4,000. American pilots flew combat missions with Vietnamese airmen, ostensibly to train them.

In January 1963, Americans learned from Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, Army chief of staff, that there were 12,000 U.S. military personnel in South Viet Nam, and within six months the number reached 14,000.

As the Buddhist crisis grew, threatening to benefit the Viet Cong Communists, so did U.S. concern. President Kennedy likened Viet Nam to the first in a line of dominoes. If Viet Nam fell, so would other Asian nations.

Despite this concern, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, after a visit to Viet Nam in October 1963, told President Kennedy it was "their judgment that the prior part of the U.S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965."

The Diem regime fell but this was overshadowed by the assassination of President Kennedy.

The U.S. commitment in Viet Nam grew constantly. By year's end there were 17,000 military advisers there. U.S. casualty figures began to filter home, small at first. Then, in August 1964, came the first big "escalation." After Communist gunboats attacked a destroyer of the U.S. 7th Fleet in the Tonkin Gulf, the Americans retaliated with air strikes at gunboat bases in North Viet Nam.

The time was critical. The Viet Cong had nearly won the war. In February 1965 the United States launched an air assault on North Vietnamese targets and stepped up the tempo steadily from there on. A month later, in March 1965, the first U.S. combat troops landed on Vietnamese soil. Two U.S. Marine battalions stormed ashore at Da Nang, and with the Marines came tanks, artillery and a helicopter squadron. The Marines were assigned to "in depth defense" of Da Nang. That implied combat operations against the Viet Cong in the nearby countryside.

northeast of Saigon. And in July, President Johnson announced he would send another 50,000 Americans to fight the Communists. By Christmas of 1965 there were 180,000 U.S. troops in the theater, exclusive of the 7th Fleet. The Americans flying about 2,300 missions from Guam, the eight-engine jets dropped 500 tons of bombs on the Communist D Zone, 25 miles northeast of Saigon. DELAY ANNOUNCED

BOISE (AP) — A delay in its annual convention was announced Wednesday by the Idaho Young Democrats.

Leo Krullitz of Boise, president, said the session, originally scheduled for July 16, will be held instead in early September. The exact date will be announced later.

The convention is scheduled for Twin Falls.

Krullitz said the delay was necessary in order to obtain proper convention facilities.

CAUSE LISTED

PIERCE, Idaho (AP) — The death of William R. Quaring, 21, of Spokane, apparently was by carbon monoxide poisoning, the Clearwater County sheriff's office reported Wednesday.

Quaring's body was found about 4:30 a.m. in his car, parked alongside a road near here. Police speculated he became tired, pulled off the road and fell asleep with the engine running. The death apparently was accidental, officers said.

A native of Klamath Falls, Ore., Quaring had been employed for the past month as a mill worker in Potlatch Forest's plywood plant at Pierce. Before that he had worked at the Old White Pine and Sash Co. until it shut down.

MAN KILLED

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — A loading boom fell and crushed a Lewiston father of three to death Wednesday at a logging site 15 miles east of Elk River in North Idaho.

Clearwater County Deputy Robert J. Gatch identified the victim as George Newton Warr, employed by Rupert Wimer, a Cottonwood logging contractor. Gatch said Warr was killed, apparently instantly, when the boom fell as he was helping load logs on a truck.

CHOSEN HEAD

MCCALL, Idaho (AP) — Jack Summers of Idaho Falls was chosen president of the Idaho State Pharmaceutical Association Wednesday in concluding sessions of its convention in McCall.

Other officers elected were Gary Damiano of Kellogg, first vice president; Russell Storrs of Boise, second vice president; and C. E. Barnett of Boise, secretary.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie, in an address to the delegates, stumped for the state sales tax and listed his administration's achievements.

YOUTH KILLED

BOISE (AP) — An accident on a rural road claimed the life of a Utah youth and boosted Idaho's highway death toll for the year to 114. That was five more than were killed in the corresponding period last year.

State police said Joe Arthur Wyatt, 13, Salt Lake City (1920 Sigurd Drive), died in the one-car accident on a rural road 4 1/2 miles northeast of Holbrook in Oneida County.

The youth was riding in the back of a pickup truck, which went out of control, rolled down a hill and turned over.

Todd Nathan-Wyatt was listed as driver of the vehicle.

The accident occurred about 9 p.m. Tuesday, state police said, but was not reported until Thursday.

POPULATION LISTED

BOISE (AP) — Boise's population, determined in a special May census, was officially reported at 72,000 Wednesday.

Mayor Jay Amey received the census results in a telegram from Tom Keler, director of the Census Bureau.

Amey said the census showed Boise grew by an additional 8,572 residents since the regular national census in 1960.

Ike, Mamie Recall Historical Moments On Their 50th Wedding Anniversary

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (NEA)—On July 1, 1916, there was great excitement at 750 Lafayette St. in Denver.

In her family's home, Mamie Geneva Doud, 19, the belle of the ball in her winter visits near Fort Sam Houston in Texas, was marrying a handsome Army officer.

In a wedding gown of white lace, she stood to take her vows with Dwight David Eisenhower, 25, dressed in the starched whites he had brought when, earlier, he had expected duty in the Philippines. That day he was made a lieutenant.

Fifty years have passed—half a century in which their personal life often has been woven closely with the historic moments of a nation struggling through two world wars and the perplexing aftermath.

Mamie Doud's handsome husband became supreme commander in war and 34th president of the United States.

Until this very moment, among all American presidents only John Quincy Adams and his wife, Louisa, had ever attained their golden wedding anniversary.

As the Eisenhowers celebrate theirs in the warm setting of their family (22 people gathered at son John's home in Philadelphia), they look back upon the eventful years with great relish.

A few days before the milestone arrived, they spoke of those years to a handful of reporters who sat with them in Gen. Eisenhower's office on the Gettysburg college campus not far from his spacious farm.

Ruddy of face, thinned down a bit from his presidential years, Ike sat relaxed in a lightweight gray suit touched off by a subdued blue tie. Mamie, cheerful and friendly, wore a summery apricot-colored dress edged in white, matching shoes and handbag, white accessories.

These are times of intended retirement, yet they obviously are still caught in a swirl of activities. Two weeks solid is a long time at the farm. Says Mamie:

"It's hard to keep him in check. When we're here, he comes over to his desk at eight in the morning and stays until six at night."

Her keen concern is an old story. One of her hardest moments, she says, was having to preside at a White House state dinner for the King of Morocco the very day in 1957 when Ike suffered a mild stroke affecting his speech.

"In Army life you become a team," Mamie adds, thinking of the endless changes of post and of friends, which heighten mutual dependence.

Last year friends gave them what Eisenhower calls "a remarkable present"—that gold thing. "Mamie explains more specifically: It was a beautiful gold bowl whose rim bore depictions of the 22 principal houses—including the White House—where they have spent their 50 years.

In 1942, the year Ike was chosen to lead allied armed forces in Europe, they changed residence six times. Their eight years in the White House actually was their longest stay in one place.

Much as they prize their present time of relative leisure, neither Ike nor Mamie thinks of the White House era as any sort of ordeal. Says the general:

"It was a very thrilling and humbling experience. Anyone who says it's nothing but a burden is wrong. I never thought of it that way. I never felt like a downtrodden slave. There was a very real excitement about it."

The Eisenhowers' recollections of their life together are, in many ways, not much different from an ordinary couple's memories. They remember vividly:

The death of their first son, Doud Dwight, from scarlet fever in 1921.

John's marriage to Barbara Jean Thompson.

The birth of their first grandchild, Dwight David (called David), who is heading for Army school.

Few of the moments of this half-century panorama are close around them now. Thousands of things acquired in their personal and public life are on exhibit or in storage at the Eisenhower museum in Abilene, Kan. Mamie observes:

"I love to go out and look. I'm always so surprised at the things we've sent."

None could be more startling to the visitor than an item Mrs. Eisenhower discovered in the attic of her late mother's Denver home. In a faded satin-covered box with red, white and blue shield, her mother had left a piece of the original wedding cake. "It was kind of brownish," she laughs, "but we sent it to the museum."

At the farm, their quiet haven, remain only gifts from close friends. It is the focus of their life today for half the year, with the winter months spent in the California desert.

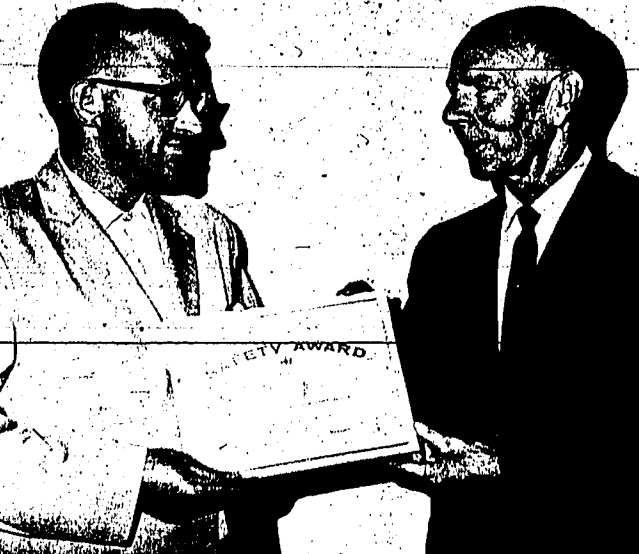

Part of the time, Gettysburg is only an address for their mail. "We go wherever the notion takes us," says Mamie, adding they might take a cruise this summer. But they do love the farm.

Ike says he likes to start the day with a walk "in the cool of the morning." At the office, staffed by eight people, including veteran aide Kevin McCann, he works on writing projects, speeches and the like. Blowups of three New York newspaper front pages for the first days of the 1944 Normandy invasion live on the wall of an office hallway as reminders of all busier days.

Mamie does a lot of personal shopping. Her face is familiar even in Harrisburg, 40 miles away. She is the family bill-payer, and handles much of her substantial correspondence with charity groups, well-wishers, people seeking her recipes.

"It seems I write 10 letters and get 20 back," she says, "look at the clock and I can't believe the money is gone."

The points much less than he once did. "Can't get good light," he complains. But he still likes it and will, he says, "try anything." Smiling, Mamie murmurs "that's true," and nods assent when he adds he's really

Governor Is Urged to Call Extra Session

KENDRICK, Idaho (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie has been urged to call a special legislative session to repeal the real property valuation law passed last year.

State Rep. George F. Brocke, D-Latah, says assessment values now being placed on real property "in many cases are unrealistic."

Brocke made his request in a letter to the governor Tuesday suggesting the next regular legislative session could then come up with another plan.

"I am sure that there will be several court cases filed in regards to this law and I also believe that this re-evaluation is something that requires more study and time," he said.

Last year the legislature passed a law requiring assessment of farm and residential property at 20 per cent of market value.

The law provided that the rate be achieved during a four-year period with the first of four adjustments taking place this year.

Commerce Aide Plans to Resign

WASHINGTON (A)—Undersecretary of Commerce LeRoy Collins says he will resign Oct. 1 and return to Florida where he formerly was governor to become a partner in a Tampa-based law firm.

On previous occasions, Collins has said he is interested in seeking the seat of Sen. George A. Smathers who has said he will not seek re-election in 1968 because of ill health.

Hotel Astor to Close After 62 Years on Times Square

NEW YORK (AP)—The Hotel Astor, which has stood along gaudy Times Square like a maiden aunt for nearly 62 years, quits it quits today.

This morning her last 150 guests will check out, the 450 employees will leave their jobs, and the wrecking crew will take over. The Astor, a Broadway landmark is coming down to make way for a 40-story office building.

"It's sad. Any passing is sad," said Erwin O. Schel, the hotel's general manager.

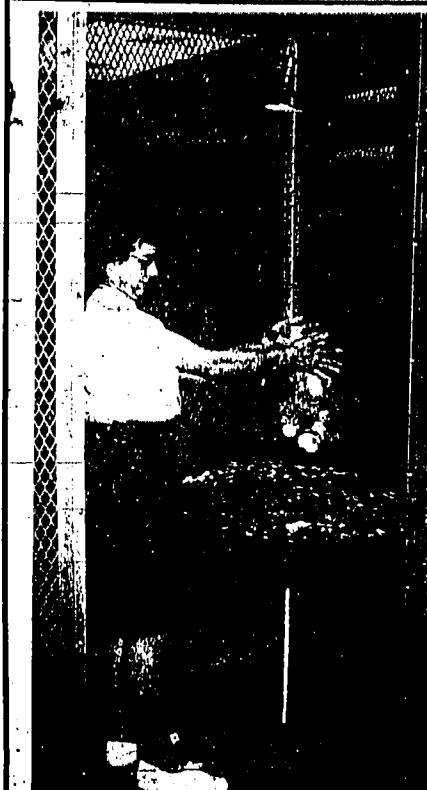

Henry Potberg, the assistant bell captain, looked across the red-carpeted lobby and said: "The Astor's just out of this world. It's been like a second home to me. I've spent half of my life here."

For years the Astor was home to presidents and show business people. Every president since 1933 has stayed at the hotel, and once, according to a favorite Astor legend, a man went to sleep thinking he was president and woke up a loser.

He was Charles Evans Hughes, who headed down in 1916 the presidential suite in 1916 after hearing the favorable early returns. But during the night the California vote came in and put Woodrow Wilson in the White House.

The lobby of the Astor didn't look like a hotel on its last night. Guests still were checking in, and Schel said the hotel had to turn down hundreds of reservations that continued to pour in.

In the past 20 years New York has lost 33 hotels. On the same day the Astor closes, the Sheraton-East on Park Avenue also closes its doors. Nonetheless, New York has more hotel rooms now than it did in 1945 because of the new skyscraper hotels

SEN. ROBERT F. KENNEDY, D-N.Y., in an exclusive interview with AP's Jack Bell, said the fair election of a civilian government in South Viet Nam offers the best hope of gaining world support for U.S. actions there. Kennedy Says Elections in Viet Nam Offer Best Hope

EDITOR'S NOTE — In this exclusive interview, New York's Democratic Sen. Robert F. Kennedy gives his views on the situation in Viet Nam and the possibilities for high-level U.S.-China talks. He comments on many other international problems and warns against making "a major political mistake" in Europe.

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy said today that the fair election of a civilian government offers the best hope of gaining world support for American actions in Viet Nam.

Kennedy, New York Democrat who has contended the Johnson administration has not gone far enough in trying to get peace talks under way, said the escalation of bombing of North Viet Nam targets is going to make more difficult any attempts to negotiate an end to the fighting.

Wednesday's bombing of oil storage facilities in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas also dims the possibility for major talks, he had said the United States ought to have "Red China," Kennedy added. He said any Southeast Asia settlement would involve China.

In a wide-ranging interview with The Associated Press, Kennedy, who is a possible candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in the future, said:

"The International Control Commission made up of Canada, Africa and Poland should be asked to supervise the preparations and actual voting in the projected September South Viet Nam elections.

President Johnson should send more "high-level people" to Africa and boost U.S. economic aid to a continent that now gets an annual amount equal to the cost of five days of fighting in Viet Nam.

It would be "a major political mistake" to reduce the U.S. troop commitment in Europe at this point but he favors exploring the possibility with the Soviet Union of reciprocal withdrawals.

Here are some of the questions and answers:

Q. Do you believe that the elections in South Viet Nam will produce in time a viable civilian government?

A. I think that it is difficult to accomplish but I am in favor of taking that step. I think that the United States should actively encourage elections and that it should provide for the supervision of the elections by either the United Nations or by the ICC, asking them to increase their numbers to supervise the elections.

Q. I think the ICC has jurisdiction there already and that is why I suggest them as an alternative to the United Nations. Although I think it might be difficult from a practical point of view, I would rather see the United Nations do it. If that is impossible to accomplish, I think the least we should do is to ask the ICC to come in.

Q. Suppose there is no supervision of the election by an international body? Does that mean the results cannot be accepted?

A. No, but I think our position is much, much stronger if we made that request and made that effort. I think international observers should be in there during the period prior to the elections to insure that there is no intimidation so that the people in Viet Nam and around the world would have some confidence in the election. I think it is very important that we make it clear that when we talk about what we want to accomplish in Viet Nam — being the self-determination of the people — that that is understood not only in Viet Nam but that people in the other parts of the globe understand that is our objective and that we are willing to put it to the fair election of a civilian the test.

Q. In your judgment will the escalation of bombing of North Viet Nam foreclose a possibility of the major talks you have said we ought to have with Communist China?

A. Well, I think that result is going to be difficult to accomplish at best, but I think there is no question that it is going to be, at least for the immediate future, much more difficult.

Q. How would you suggest that we go about trying to arrange these talks?

A. Well, of course we are having the talks in Warsaw that go on continuously. I have suggested that they be invited to Geneva disarmament talks and I have said that we should be prepared to meet with them and talk with them at any level that is possible.

Q. What about a Southeast Asia settlement?

A. That will involve China. I have suggested in the past that we be prepared to talk to the Viet Cong and the National Liberation Front. I expect that the step (Wednesday's bombing of oil facilities) is being taken in order to put greater pressure on them and on Hanoi. My feeling is that it is an escalation that is not going to bring about that result. It is a hardening of an attitude.

Q. Should we reduce our troop commitment to Western Europe?

A. I don't think so at the moment. I think our policy should be aimed toward doing what we can to bring resolution of the difficulties that exist between France and West Germany. We should be taking steps to promote that accommodation rather than to create any difficulty or any pressure between Germany and France.

I think to some extent up to several weeks ago we were concentrating more on splitting them apart rather than bringing them together. It is important that France keep her troops within West Germany.

Q. You don't go along with those who believe that we could reduce our forces to a token number?

A. No, I think it would be a major political mistake at the present time. But I would explore with the Soviet Union and with the Warsaw Pact members the possibility of their withdrawing troops and our taking simultaneous action.

Let me say that I think that that should be explored more actively. My judgment at the present time is that it has not been.

Commander of Paul Unit Urges Flying of Flag

PAUL — A plea to have an American flag flying at every home and business industrial firm in Magic Valley on Independence Day, July 4, was voiced Thursday by Donovan Webster, commander of the Wilson Hall Post 77, American Legion, Paul.

Webster explained that the eyes of the world, and particularly those of the forces of world communism, are constantly watching for any signs of internal weakness which might forecast the downfall of the U.S.

"Here in Magic Valley, we can do our share toward the discouragement of any such thoughts about a weak, apathetic, dispirited American citizenry by flying the Stars and Stripes on this patriotic holiday," he declared.

With the American flag displayed in front of every home and business address we can make this year's observance of Independence Day an unforgettable demonstration of Americanism and at the same time show our community's measure of appreciation for all who answered our country's call to arms for the preservation of our priceless heritage.

TV Executive Disappointed About Ban

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—Board chairman Patrick J. Frawley of Eversharp, Inc., executive producer of the CBS program "Up With People," said the show's ban from CBS television stations in three cities of a program produced by his firm, was a disappointment.

The program, "Up With People," features a large chorus of young people affiliated with the Moral Re-Armament Movement singing songs. Moral Re-Armament, aimed largely at youth, stresses strict morality as a political, economic and individual way of life.

Eversharp said the show is booked on locally owned stations in 31 cities. At KMOX-TV, St. Louis, WBBM, Chicago, and WCAU-TV, Philadelphia, where the CBS ban applies, Eversharp said it has been rescheduled at other stations. Frawley said: "I can't see how it could offend anyone. It's like saying apple pie is ideological."

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market halted its sharp loss in active trading into this afternoon.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.1 million shares, with 6.3 million Wednesday.

There was the picture near the close:

With the market staging a comeback, apparently the shock of the increase in banks' prime rate announced after the close of trading Wednesday, was wearing off. Major gains of 10 to 15 points were reported in the rate charged to their biggest and best borrowers to 5 1/2 per cent from 5 1/8 per cent.

Bankers' stock prices rose 3 to 5 points in early trading to less than 3.

Despite the rebound, most groups were lower or mixed at best.

Airlines showed sharp improvement with Pan American World Airways and United Airlines up nearly 2 points, more than a point into about a half point. Douglas shaved a 3-point loss to less than 2.

Electronics turned mixed with Raytheon and Sperry Rnd up fractionally.

Losses of around a point were taken by Consolidated Natural Gas, Anaconda, American Cyanamid, and General Electric.

IDM and Xerox gained about a point.

Prices declined in heavy trading in the American Stock Exchange.

OGDEN SPOILS MAGIC VALLEY DEBUT 5-0

Dodgers Combine Base Stealing With Three-Hit Pitching to Cop Decision

Larry Hutton and Don Spain held Magic Valley to three hits and the Ogden Dodgers stole enough bases in the fourth inning alone to pin a 5-0 shutout on the Cowboys in their first home appearance of 1966 Wednesday night. Manager Tom Lasorda had his boys running at every opportunity and the Cowboys were in no position to argue. The Dodgers swiped seven bases during the night and never

White Sox Shut Out Solons 5-0

CHICAGO (AP) — Two-run homers by Tommie Agee and Tom McCraw led the Chicago White Sox to a 5-0 victory over the Washington Senators Wednesday night.

Bruce Howard and Bob Lock scattered seven hits with Howard leaving in the eighth inning because of a small blister on his throwing hand. Howard got credit for the victory, his third, as the White Sox snuffed a three-game losing streak.

Home runs — Chicago, Agee (6), McCraw (4).

Pirates Nip Astros 6-5

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Roberto Clemente ripped a ninth-inning single to center, scoring Matty Alou with the winning run as the Pittsburgh Pirates nipped Houston 6-5 Wednesday night.

Alou beat out a bounce opening the ninth. After Gene Alley sacrificed him to second, Clemente's hit brought him home. Jimmy Wynn had walked a two-run homer with two out in the ninth inning, tying it for Houston. Wynn's 13th homer followed a two-out single by rookie Sonny Jackson.

Home runs — Houston, Harrison (2), Wynn (13).

Cubs' 7-Run Rally Beats Braves 9-5

ATLANTA (AP) — Billy Williams' two-run homer topped a seven-run ninth-inning rally by the Chicago Cubs Wednesday for a 9-5 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

The Braves took a 4-2 lead into the ninth with the help of a two-run double by Frank Bolling in the sixth and a homer by Eddie Mathews, the 483rd of his career in the eighth.

After Ted Abernathy replaced Olivo, Glenn Beckert doubled home two runs and Lee Thomas' single scored Beckert. Williams then greeted Don Snider with his home run.

Home runs — Chicago, Williams (12), Atlanta, Mathews (6).

Good Fishing Is Expected for Area Anglers During Three-Day Weekend

BOISE (AP) — Generally good fishing is predicted for the Fourth of July weekend in Idaho.

The state fish and game department, in its weekly summary, said water and road conditions generally are better than usual.

"High mountain trails and roads to lakes and streams are beginning to open and should accommodate part of the overflow crowds of fishermen expected to turn out for the long July 4 weekend," the department said.

"Lowland lake, reservoir and stream fishing continues good. Most places in the state, with water and road conditions better than they have been in several years."

"Cloudbursts could muddy the water and roads in some places. Fishing for spring chinook salmon continues good but the peak of the run is believed over. Some salmon are moving in the Snake River and the Main Sal-

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A bases-loaded walk to Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell's two-run single gave the American League leading Baltimore Orioles three seventh-inning runs and a 5-2 victory over Kansas City Wednesday night.

100 Tee Off In Women's Golf Open

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Defending champion Carol Mann and two other pros, both four-time winners, lead a field of more than 100 into the $20,000 United States Golf Association's National Women's Open starting Thursday over a tough, new course.

The field, almost equally divided between pros and amateurs, must struggle in a 72-hole, 36-hole tournament. The Hazeltine National course designed by Robert Trent Jones.

The course, located amid rolling, heavily wooded farmland about 25 miles southwest of Minneapolis, began operating in 1902. With a women's par of 36-72, Hazeltine plays 0.325 yards and has nine holes sharply dog-legged and eight nestled close to one or more natural or man-made ponds.

The Open, with a $4,000 top prize, not only has lured most of the current young pros, but also such veterans as four-time winners Betty Rawls and Mickey Wright, onse Sugars, and hometown Patty Berg, 48, who won the first women's Open in 1916.

Twins Suspend Valdespino

ST. PAUL — MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — President Calvin Griffith of the Minnesota Twins suspended outfielder Ted Valdespino Tuesday without pay for refusing to report to Denver of the Pacific Coast League.

Valdespino was ordered to report to the farm club after the Twins recalled outfielder Ted Valdespino last week.

Valdespino's suspension will be lifted as soon as he reports to Denver. He hit .261 as a rookie for the Twins last season but was batting under .200 this season.

Clay May Add Terrell to His 'Bum of Month' Boxing Agenda

NEW YORK (AP) — Brash Cassius Clay, following in Joe Louis' footsteps, talked Wednesday of a possible fight with Ernie Terrell after he defends his heavyweight title against England's Brian London in London and German's Karl Mildenberger in Frankfurt.

The unbeaten, 24-year-old champion already has had two title bouts this year but he'll have to quicken his pace if he hopes to match Louis' record on his bum-of-the-month tours from 1938 through 1941.

Louis made three defenses in 1938, four each in 1939 and 1940 and seven within eight months in 1941. Only Arlio Godoy, in 1940, was able to go the 15-round route with the famed Brown Bomber during this series.

When asked if he'd like to fight Terrell, the World Boxing Association's champion, who retained his piece of the crown in a 15-rounder with Doug Jones Tuesday night, Clay replied:

"Sure, I'm ready. I'd like that in Chicago or New York."

A scheduled Terrell-Clay fight for last March fell through and Clay took on George Chuvalo instead, beating the Canadian champion in 15 rounds at Toronto, March 20. Then on May 21, Clay stopped Britain's Henry Cooper at London in the sixth round.

In talking about his fight schedule at a press conference, Clay remarked:

"Of course I have to fight London and Mildenberger first and they're gonna be desperate, do-or-die fighters with this abject at my title. But I'm a fighting champion and I duck nobody."

British promoter Laurie Lewis, who will co-promote the London fight with Jack Solomons, said the dates still were Aug. 6 or 17.

The Clay-Mildenberger fight in Frankfurt is virtually set for Sept. 10 or 17.

Terrell May Go Against Williams Next

HOUSTON (AP) — Ernie Terrell called Wednesday for a heavyweight title showdown with Cassius Clay but indicated the next challenger of his World Boxing Association championship will be Cleveland Williams.

"All the firm offers so far have been for a Williams fight," said Terrell, whose five-inch reach advantage led him to a unanimous 15-round decision Tuesday night over Doug Jones.

Promoter Chris Dundee of Miami Beach, Fla., offered a $200,000 minimum for a Terrell-Williams fight. Irving Schoenwald of Chicago immediately told newsmen he would top that figure.

Schoenwald mentioned no names but left no doubt he has a Terrell-Clay showdown in mind.

"I'd like to make another try," Schoenwald said in an obvious reference to a Terrell-Clay match that fell through two months ago at Chicago.

College Sport Programs Are Discussed

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The president of Hamline College lashed at intercollegiate athletics Tuesday as big business spoke of a history of cheating, bribery and dishonesty in college sports and decried what he said were double standards of grades and admission policies for athletes.

Dr. Paul H. Giddens, president of the St. Paul, Minn., college, got an argument on the issue from two athletic directors and an athletic conference director who were fellow members of a seminar on the role of intercollegiate athletics in higher education.

Richard C. Larkins, athletic director at Ohio State, insisted competitive athletics are worth saving. His counterpart at the University of Pennsylvania,

Jerry Ford, said coaches should avoid the danger of being "sent to the salt mines because their halfbacks fumble."

Tom Hamilton, executive director of the Athletic Association of Western Universities, urged expansion of intercollegiate athletics in the junior varsity and lightweight areas and especially in women's sports.

Dr. Giddens suggested tightening of control by college administrators, easing of financial aid for athletes and need alone and athletic subsidies for colleges by state government to remove dependence upon gate receipts.

Open Goat Hunts Set in Two Units

BOISE — Only two game management units in the state will be open for general goat hunting without permits, the Idaho Fish and Game Department reminded trophy shooters today.

These units, numbers 17 and 20, are in north-central Idaho where general mountain goat hunting in past years also was permitted in units 1, 9, 10, 12 and 16A.

This year, the five additional units will be controlled by permit shooting only. They will be controlled by units 1, 9, 10, 12, 16A and 16B.

Kay Belnap, chief of business administration, says that in past years hunters 623 and 624 did not have enough applications to fill out the number of permits available—even for the second public drawing held later. Controlled hunt regulations adopted this year void any permits remaining after the second drawing.

He also reminded goat hunters that applications for the public drawing must be received at the Boise office of the Fish and Game Department by 5 p.m. July 13, or postmarked no later than midnight of the same day. The permit fee of $15 must be enclosed with the application in the form of certified check, money order or cashier's check.

The public drawing will be held in the Boise office at 2 p.m. July 20. If insufficient applications are received prior to the first drawing, a second drawing may be held at 2 p.m. August 10.

Ralston and Santana Gain Net Finals

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Dennis Ralston, often the stormy petrel of United States tennis, fought his way into the final round of the men's singles of the All-England tournament Wednesday and will play Manuel Santana of Spain for the title on Friday.

Ralston, his power service flicking chalk dust from time to time, defeated Cliff Drysdale of South Africa 6-8, 8-6, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3 after Santana, the stylish holder of the United States singles crown, eliminated unranked Owen Davidson of Australia 6-2, 4-7, 7-5, 3-6, 7-5.

Ralston thus becomes the first U.S. Wimbledon finalist since Chuck McKinley won in 1963.

Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., often accused of not being able to win the big ones because he failed to concentrate on the matters at hand, several times drew the ire of the 15,000 spectators around the famed center court because of his slow walk when exchanging courts. But this time he was dedicated and permitted nothing to interfere with his game.

Angel catcher Randy Brown led the Idaho Falls team at the plate with a double and single in four times at bat.

The Angels struck against Dave Wickersham in the second inning after two walks and a single by Bobby Knop loaded the bases with none out. Brunet walked to force home one run, another scored on Jose Cardenal's sacrifice fly, then Kirkpatrick hit his three-run homer.

Leahy Announces New Pro Grid Loop to Open for 1967 Season

CHICAGO (AP) — Former Notre Dame football coach Frank Leahy announced Wednesday a well-financed professional football league will be in operation in 1967 to compete in a signing war with the National Football League and the American Football League. Leahy, who will serve as chairman of a corporation with the complete power normally accorded a league commissioner, said that the group would be called the United States Football League and will have 12 major cities in membership. He said the first six cities would be named July 20, the next three Aug. 15 and the last three Sept. 1.

Bruce A. Werthof, a lawyer from Santa Anna, Calif., and executive vice president of the corporation, said:

"We will start signing college players early in November, and we will go after everyone." Asked if this would mean a signing war with the two established pro circuits, which recently merged in an attempt to avoid a growing battle of cash for players, Werthof said:

"Our seven incorporators have a great deal of money, and I would say that we are equipped to pay anything we want to get anyone we want."

Leahy said there would be a common player draft which would be based on a central scouting system and that within the next week headquarters would be established in New York City.

He named these members of the corporation:

Werthof; Harry Kagen of Washington, D.C., a real estate investor; Norman F. Hecht of Rockville, Md., a banker; A.M. Cetrulo of Cincinnati, contractor; Chester L. Brewer of Dallas, Tex., a banker and insurance executive; and Clayton J. Faulkner of Havertown, Pa., investment broker.

Leahy, who lives in Portland, Ore., is also in the corporation, which will be formed in Delaware.

Werthof outlined what he called unique features of the league:

1. Players and coaches will have rights to acquire shares of stock in the team organization in which they play.

2. The league will schedule exhibition games in Europe, South America and the Orient during the first three years.

3. Eligibility for retirement of players will occur much sooner in this league than in the existing ones.

Cepeda Bats Cards Past Giants 2-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Orlando Cepeda's towering home run — the first into the upper deck in new Busch Stadium — powered Nelson Briles and the St. Louis Cardinals to a 2-1 victory over the league-leading San Francisco Giants Wednesday.

Cepeda's solo blast in the sixth inning against his former teammates carried close to 500 feet down the left field line. It was his ninth of the season and gave the Cardinals a 2-0 lead against Juan Marichal, who lost his third game against 13 victories.

Willie McCovey closed the gap in the seventh with his 15th homer, a shot that landed in the center field more than 414 feet away. Cepeda was the only other player to hit one there.

The first St. Louis run came in the first when Lou Brock tied a triple over Willie Mays' head in center and scored on Phil Gagliano's sacrifice fly.

San Fran. 000 000 100 1 0 St. Louis 100 001 00x—2 6 0 Marichal and Haller, Barton (8); Briles, Hoerner (8) and McGarver, W-Briles 3-6, L-Marichal 13-3.

Home runs — San Francisco, McCovey (15), St. Louis, Cepeda (9).

West's Top Shooters To Vie in NRA Meet

About 50 of the top shooters in the 11 Western States will begin their quests for regional honors Saturday when the National Rifle Association regional smallbore prone championships are fired at the Twin Falls Rifle and Pistol Club facilities. Grant Sanborn, Twin Falls, member of the NRA national board, announced Tuesday that National President Harlan Carter, Garden Grove, Calif., will be unable to attend the tournament as previously announced due to legislative matters in California.

Mantle, who has belted 484 career homers despite ailing legs, lined a pinch into the screen in left center after singles by Tom Tresh and Richardson in the first inning.

Richardson led off the third with his third homer and Mantle followed with a line shot into the right field stands near the foul pole. Lee Stange then replaced Boston starter Roland Sheldon on the mound and was greeted by Joe Pepitone's 13th homer.

Right-hander Mel Stottlemyre, who never has lost to Boston, survived a four-run Red Sox fifth, featured by doubles by George Smith, Lennie Green and George Scott.

Home runs—New York, Mantle 2 (11), Richardson (3), Pepitone (13).

Stottlemyre, Reniff (7) and Howard; Sheldon, Stange (3), Stigman (4), McMahon (6), Wyatt (7), Osinski (9) and Ryan.

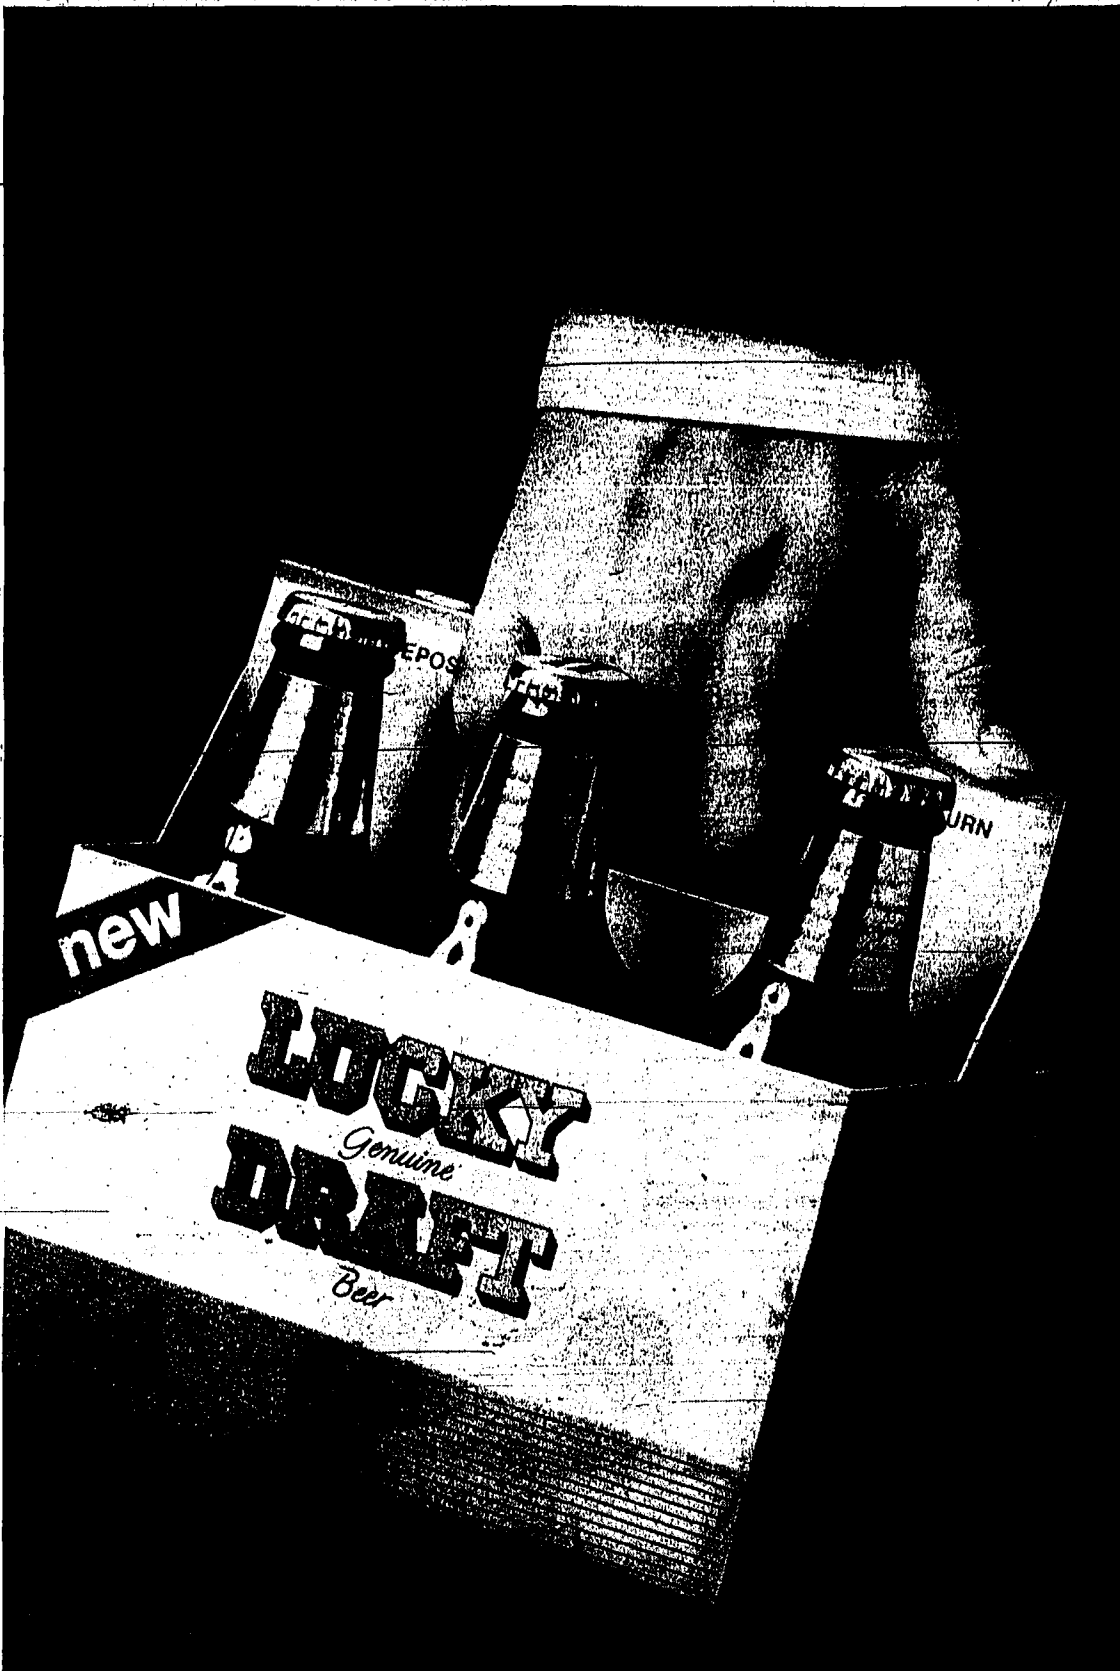

The Idaho state match will begin at 6:30 a.m. Monday and run through the entire day since it must be completed by Monday evening.

Trophies for the Idaho tournament are donated by Gem State Oil Company, United Oil, Union Motors, Motor Mercantile Company, Motel Deluxe, Starlite Motel, Wagner Transportation, E. A. Tolman Transportation, Western Beverage Company, Service Parts Company, Trail Blazer Trucking Company and Russ Wells Trucking Company.

The public is invited to watch any or all of the competition.

ATLANTEA (AP) — Tackle Bob Toney, a 14-year veteran of National Football League play, has been signed as a free agent, the Atlanta Falcons said Wednesday.

GREAT NEW BEER!

Lucky Genuine Draft Beer in bottles

GREAT NEW TASTE!

Light, smooth and remarkably non-filling

We've brewed a whole new taste in draft beer to take full advantage of the fact that packaged beer doesn't have to be heat-pasteurized any longer.

It's a brand new beer with a delicate, fresh taste that is lighter and milder and remarkably non-filling.

And 4 out of 5 people who've tried our new Lucky Genuine Draft said they liked it. So chances are you'll really like it, too.

If you haven't tried it yet, stop in at your favorite friendly tavern. Or stock up your refrigerator.

Or maybe both.

Bodies of Couple Found Near Town

ST. CHARLES, Idaho (AP) — The bodies of a young Ogden couple were found Wednesday near the small town of St. Charles in southeastern Idaho.

They were found by a friend who had joined the search for Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Downs only two hours earlier.

Michael O. Wirick, who worked with Downs at Hill Air Force Base near Ogden, said he discovered Downs' locked camper truck about 250 yards from a road leading from St. Charles to Minnetonka Canyon.

Bear Lake County sheriff's officers said a preliminary medical examination indicated that 24-year-old Downs and his wife Carolee, 23, died of asphyxiation Monday.

Their camper was equipped with a gas heater.

The campground is not far north of Bear Lake which straddles the Utah-Idaho border, where the couple was to join a family reunion Sunday.

Worried relatives began the search Monday and before the couple was found more than 100 persons joined the search.

A Forest Service employee said the camper had been near a Minnetonka Cave campground since Monday.

He said no check was made because the camper was not in a designated campground. Otherwise, he said, occupants of the camper would have been asked to show a federal permit to use the campground.

The couple left Ogden Saturday and were to have spent that night in Logan Canyon.

Norman Thomas Evaluates Two

NEW YORK (AP) — Aging Socialist leader Norman Thomas placed President Johnson and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., on his political scale Wednesday and concluded that Kennedy carried more weight.

Thomas, 82, told a union gathering in New York he was "happily surprised at what Kennedy has been doing."

Idaho Demo Race Heads For Primary

BOISE (AP) — Idaho's three-way race for the Democratic nomination for governor appears headed for clear sailing toward the Aug. 2 primary election.

But before abandoning his campaign Wednesday, Boise businessman H. Westermann, Whillock called for an overhaul of the state's present election machinery.

Whillock supporters this week threatened a last-ditch court fight to get Whillock on the primary ballot.

Whillock said Wednesday that despite urging of his attorneys and backers, he would not continue his campaign.

He failed to gain endorsement at the party assembly earlier this month.

An oversight by Secretary of State L. E. Clapp then cast doubt on the validity of both state assemblies.

Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard said last week the oversight was technical and did not interfere with the normal nominating procedure. Clapp failed to provide the Idaho counties with official lists of state and Congressional candidates before the assemblies as required by law.

Calling for an open primary, Whillock said:

"The present convention method and the manner in which delegates are selected makes it too easy for boss rule of our political parties."

The Democratic party, with the help of some Republicans, spearheaded efforts in making the pre-primary convention a part of Idaho's election procedures.

Democrats ran pro-gambling candidates in 1958 and 1962 against Gov. Robert E. Smylie and lost after open primaries.

Tanker Hulk To Be Towed And Scuttled

NEW YORK (AP) — The ruined hulk of the tanker Alva Cape — twice raked by explosion and fire within two weeks — will be towed more than 100 miles from New York Harbor and scuttled.

Federal authorities ordered the unusual move Wednesday after it was decided that the ship is a serious menace to navigation in its present position. Its hold still contains some volatile naphtha.

But the ship's owners said Wednesday night they were having difficulty finding tugs to take the job. One towing company reportedly withdrew when it failed to get assurance that the U. S. Navy would sink the hulk.

The British tanker now lies at anchor in Gravesend Bay, off Brooklyn, where explosions and fire claimed four lives and injured eight other men Tuesday while crews were pumping out the remnants of the dangerous naphtha.

The Alva Cape collided with an American tanker, the Texaco Massachusetts, in the Kill Van Kull, between New Jersey and Staten Island on June 16. In the ensuing explosion and fire 33 men lost their lives.

WSU to Receive Science Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington State University will receive $600,000 from the National Science Foundation for expansion of its computers center, Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said Wednesday night.

WSU, said Magnuson, will get a new computer later this summer.

Dr. J. F. Short, dean of the WSU graduate school, is in charge of the computer program, Magnuson said.

ROUNDUP CHICKEN BARBECUE

goes thisaway...

The grand neighborhood barbecue originated West of the Rockies, and a Western-style barbecue is still fun, pardner, anywhere from coast to coast. Here are two superb barbecue menus providing the authentic charm of the Old West.

Chicken is at home anywhere, and never more so than when it's time for an outdoor wing-ding. Golden-brown chicken, crisp outside, juicy inside, adds a note of distinction to any party, however informal. It's always a popular company food, easy for out-of-hand nibbling, and especially marvelous cooked on a spit, according to the National Broiler Council. Hero of the first Western is Hickory Barbecued Chicken, which derives its mellow flavor from hickory-flavor catsup; combined with other seasoning, it lends the chicken a mellow, wonderfully smoky taste.

With the barbecued chicken, Ranchero Corn. For convenience and fine flavor, the corn dish is based on handy canned vacuum-packed golden whole kernel corn with sweet peppers. Begin with this splendid combination, and add mushrooms, crumbled bacon, onion and grated Cheddar to give the vegetable dish a festive air. Hot biscuits, cole slaw, and watermelon complete the menu.

If your fancy runs to chicken combined with tomato flavoring, Zesty Tomato Chicken is for you. The chickens are grilled; 25 minutes before the end of cooking time, add a nippy marinade based on pure vegetable oil and pizza-flavored catsup. The pizza-flavor catsup lends a delectable tomato taste and the zing of herbs and spices as well.

Chuckwagon Potato Salad is perfection with the Zesty Tomato Chicken. Begin with potatoes and hard-cooked eggs, and add to the ingredients a can of small early peas with onions. The canned small early peas with onions provide this barbecue stand-by with brand new character; the flavor of the vegetables combines beautifully with the potatoes.

Serve with herb bread, fresh fruit, and assorted soft drinks and there you have another excellent menu plan.

When it's barbecue roundup time anywhere in the country, these Western-style menus tell your guests that fun is thisaway...right in your own backyard.

Increase in U. S. Savings Is Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans — as a whole — increased their financial savings by $6.1 billion during the first three months of this year. But, in reporting this Wednesday night, the Securities and Exchange Commission noted a marked change in the type of investment which attracted the public.

High-yield government bonds and mutual funds were two of the favored investments for individuals during the three-month period.

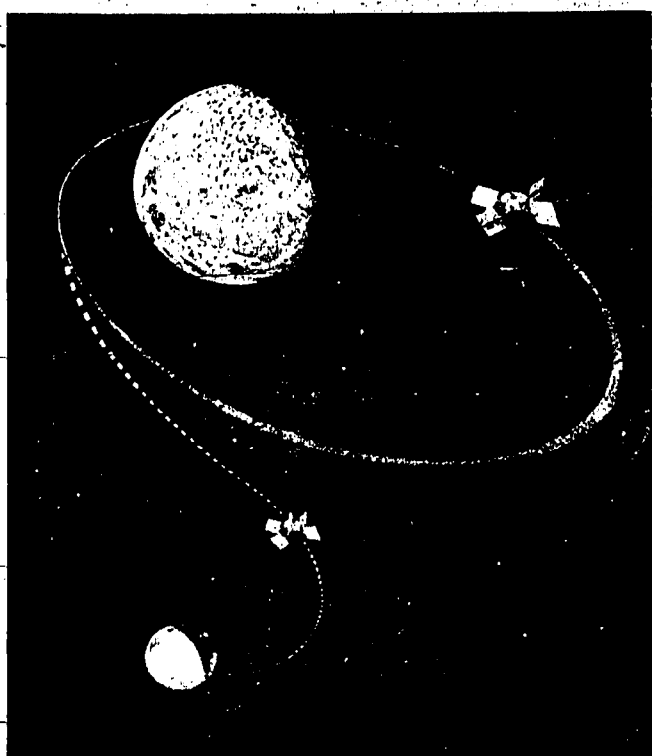

The total of new savings was the same as the first quarter of last year and compared with $9 billion during the April-June quarter of 1965. Individual savings totaled more than $10 billion during each of the last two quarters of 1965.

The commission said a substantial rise in personal income between January and March of this year was not accompanied by a corresponding rise in savings because of increased consumer spending.

In noting a change in the type of savings, the commission reported a slowdown in the growth of savings deposits at banks and savings and loan associations and a sharp reduction in currency and checking accounts.

"In contrast," the SEC added, "individuals acquired the largest amount of U.S. government and agency issues in any quarter of the postwar period, reflecting the highest yields available in many years."

Record net purchases were also made in investment company shares, including mutual funds, while individuals continued sizable sales of other stock holdings, the commission added.

ARTIST'S CONCEPT SHOWS THE INTENDED flight path for a Lunar Explorer satellite which was scheduled for launching Thursday from Cape Kennedy toward orbit about the moon. The 200-pound satellite is to travel 250,000 miles to the moon's vicinity in 74 hours. Then a rocket motor is to slow it so it will swing into an orbit ranging from 800 to 4,000 miles above the lunar surface. Many U.S. Troops to Return From Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States is putting pretty much of a new army into battle in Viet Nam this summer.

It is just about a year since American troops arrived in sizable numbers and began building up to the present 271,000-man force.

Now, and during the coming two or three months, many of these troops will be returning home after one-year tours of duty.

But the troop turnover will be neither sudden nor complete.

The army intentionally staggered its replacements. It sent here some draftees who had as little as two or three months to go to complete their two-year Army service. Others had five or six months to serve. Thus, these soldiers are replaced in less than a full year.

As an additional shock absorber, replacements are made by individual soldiers rather than whole units.

Hence, any given unit may receive a lot of new faces—as some have recently—but there still be a sprinkling of combat veterans on hand.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, says it takes about one month for new arrivals to become acclimatized, particularly to Viet Nam's heat.

Some units have been slowed in combat at the start because of numerous cases of heat prostration.

Guest Ranch at Salmon Bought By Partnership

SALMON — Salmon River Properties, a partnership of Joseph Burden, Richard Green and M. M. Melton, has purchased the Twin Peaks guest ranch south of Salmon.

The purchase price was not disclosed. Melton, operator of the William Lake Resort south of here, said that because of the lateness of the season, and the time which would be required to get the facilities ready, the ranch will not be operated for guests this season.

The ranch was purchased from Mike Loening and Elaine Loening, Salmon and Boise. The ranch, 12 miles south of Salmon, covers 640 acres and has a lodge, cabins, swimming pool, barns and three houses.

Demonstrations Highlight Meet

MILNER — Demonstrations highlighted the Milnerettes 4-H Club meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Carol Warr.

Mary Seymour demonstrated making bread dough and kneading; Janet Seymour, baked cookies; Carol Warr demonstrated safety rules to follow when sewing and Ann Seymour showed members how to lay a pattern on plaid or stripe materials.

Roll call was answered with "How far we have progressed on our projects." Janet Seymour led the Pledge of Allegiance and Mary Kirk the 4-H pledge. Mrs. Edwin Brune, leader, asked all members to check for health hazards in their homes. All projects were checked and assignments made for the next meeting.

Mrs. Farnham Warr served the refreshments.

President Is Inaugurated

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A frail, sad-faced lawyer, Joaquin Balaguer, on Friday becomes the huddly system. A newly arrived soldier is assigned to a combat veteran who becomes his buddy. The veteran trains the buddy and goes on patrols with him.

The U.S. practice differs from that followed by some of its allies. For example, the Australian contingent of 1,500 men which arrived last summer has just been replaced entirely. In addition, the Australian task force was increased three-fold to its present total of 4,500 men.

70th president of this little political volcano that has had constitutional government for only seven months in the past 36 years.

The inauguration caps a costly and controversial 44-month effort by the Organization of American States to restore a measure of political and economic stability to the country.

Actually, it was the second collective attempt by the hemisphere nations to bring democratic rule to the Dominican Republic since dictator Rafael Leonidas Trujillo was slain five years ago. The first try ended in failure when Juan Bosch, only the second man to be freely elected since 1924, was ousted in 1963 by a civilian-military coup after only seven months in office.

House Votes On Proposal Over Housing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee voted Wednesday to remove most privately owned housing from President Johnson's proposed ban on racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.

It then gave quick approval by a 24-9 bipartisan vote to a new civil rights bill that also deals with protecting Negroes' rights, speeding school desegregation and ending discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.

A deadlock on the controversial housing section of the bill was broken when the committee adopted, 21-13, a substitute offered by Rep. Charles M. McNair, D-Md., that reportedly is satisfactory to the administration.

It would exempt homeowners who sell or rent their property, but only up to two transactions a year. In addition, it would exempt a fair housing board from a family in size who live in the house themselves and rent the other units.

Real estate agents and brokers would be specifically barred from engaging in any discriminatory practices, but could not be prosecuted if they were acting for an exempted homeowner who refused to sell or rent to a Negro.

Under an amendment offered by Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., a fair housing board would be created with power to investigate complaints arising under the law and to issue orders to stop any discriminatory practices.

Clarence Mitchell, Washington representative of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, termed the housing proposal "a constructive effort," but said it would have to be studied carefully to learn its actual impact.

There still remains the Senate, where the Republican leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, has expressed firm opposition to Johnson's original housing proposal.

In its other provisions, the bill would:

- Require that federal jurors be selected at random from a list of all registered voters in a judicial district.

- Empower the attorney general to seek a court order to end any discriminatory practice in the selection of jurors by state courts.

- Authorize the attorney general to bring school desegregation suits, without waiting for a complaint to be filed, as at present.

- Create a new series of federal crimes involving interference by threats or force with the constitutional or legal rights of Negroes.

- Authorize the attorney gen-

Soroptimist Club Officers Installed at Dinner Here

The Soroptimist Club of Twin Falls held its installation dinner Tuesday evening at the Roundup room of the Rogerson Hotel.

Mrs. John Koontz, with the help of Mrs. W. F. Hull, donated the tables with dozens of roses in gold colored bowls. The pencil candles and ribbon bows in blue helped carry out the blue and gold Soroptimist colors.

Following the steak dinner, Mrs. U. N. Terry introduced "The Jokers," Milford Marsh and Keith Egbert, who presented a comedy routine, with pantomimed songs.

Mrs. Max Guyer, accompanied by Mary Jean Greer, sang "Wilds" by Braine and "The Singer" by Michael Head. Mrs. Retta Payne, a member of the Burley Soroptimist Club, was the installing officer. She was assisted by Theo Hollinger, who gave the Soroptimist Pledge, on which the service was based.

The following were installed: Mrs. Morris Vavold, president; Mrs. Glen E. Cannon, vice president; Mrs. John Koontz, treasurer; Mrs. E. M. Rayborn, recording secretary; Mrs. Norman Garlington, finance and corresponding secretary; Mrs. Christine Petersen, Mrs. Ithel and Mrs. Percy Greene, board members.

Following the ceremonies, a check court order to prevent interference with Negroes' rights.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, June 30 — Born today, you are highly ambitious and must take care that you do not succumb to the temptation to advance in your career at the expense of others. Fortunately, you have a sense of fairness second only to your desire to succeed; and this, if you listen to the voice of your own conscience, should be enough to keep you well within the bounds of propriety. It may also keep you from forging ahead at quite the rate you would choose for yourself — but you will be happy knowing that you reached the top honestly.

Gifted with uncommon business acumen, you have what many call "luck," what others call "instinct," and what those in the know call a wise head for an opportunity. You possess an article on flowers, a reading was given and games played. Mrs. Ed Sheer served refreshments.

Your relationships with others are likely to be stormy, since you yourself are neither easy-going nor inclined to take anything lying down. It may be, however, that you could improve your personal associations with others by encouraging in yourself the habit of not reacting to every slight, many of which are probably unintentional.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraphs. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Stowaway Is Caught After Trip to U. S.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Leon T. Robinson Jr., 11, managed to stow away successfully on an airliner from Japan to the United States, but fell a few hundred miles short of his destination.

The boy, son of Sgt. I.C. Leon T. Robinson, said he was headed for Mexico when authorities took him off an American Airlines jet in Phoenix on Tuesday night.

Phoenix authorities said they placed this story together from various sources: The boy left his parents' residence near Tokyo, on Sunday by bus. He sneaked aboard a Pan American airliner in Tokyo and flew to San Francisco, where officials believed him to be separated from his parents.

Then Leon made it aboard another airliner for Phoenix, but authorities sent a message ahead to intercept him.

The boy told officers he was headed for Mexico.

"Some day we'll go there together and I wanted to be able to tell my mother I'd been there before," he told officers in Phoenix.

Authorities talked with the father by telephone Wednesday and said arrangements are being made either to return him to Japan or else send him to California to live with an aunt.
